LET'S GO, PUPPY

Let's Go, Puppy is a developmentally appropriate board book for babies and toddlers. Let's follow Puppy throughout his day! From waking up for mealtime -- "Eat, eat, eat" -- to getting dirty in the yard -- "No, no, no!" -- Puppy's shenanigans provide fun opportunities to introduce early speech sounds, words, and actions. Written by a speech-language pathologist, this playful, interactive story helps enhance early communication development in babies and toddlers. Tips for caregivers as well as a list of the earliest-developing speech sounds are included.

YOU AND ME

Each of us seem the same in many ways - we all have eyes, ears, noses, and hands. But those things are also what make us very unique from one another. Our senses and responses makes the world more interesting.

You may love noodles, while a friend says, "Eww, no thanks." It's these differences that make us and the world more interesting. Mine make me ME and yours make you YOU!

The world was made for us to play, learn, and dream. If we were the same how boring would that be?

A ROYAL SHADE OF BLUE

When art history student Clementine receives a social media message complimenting her latest project, her response leads to the mysterious CP Chadwick, a British man studying history at Cambridge. An online friendship quickly blooms. When she confides her medical past to CP, he doesn't treat her as fragile like her parents do, and their friendship turns to something more in Clementine's heart.

Clementine has no idea that CP is actually Prince Christian of Wales, who has never had a "normal" life. Can they overcome their own fears—as well as the constraints of royal life—to reach their own happily ever after?

I HEAR THE BLACK RAVEN

At 31 years of age, Claire Ishi Ayetoro has lived enough lives to fill an ensemble cast. In this, her first memoir, no topic is off-limits as she paints portrait after portrait of her triumphs and her battles with bipolar disorder, religiosity, and that ever elusive cure-all: love. A vividly compassionate depiction of psychosis, Ayetoro weaves words of wisdom, encouragement, and inspiration into every layer of her storytelling. Journey with her through the mountains and valleys of manic depression, guided by that singular spirit of flight: the black raven. You never know, it may even be calling to you.
